At the KLA Awards Luncheon on Thursday, September 12, the Kentucky Libraries Award for Volume 76 (2012) will be presented to John Chenault from the University of Louisville for his article, "Investigating and Improving Medical Education and Library Resources at the Tamale Teaching Hospital in Northern Ghana: A Case Report." The article appeared in the Summer 2012 issue (vol. 76 #3).

The following KLA members served on the editorial board during 2012-2013:

Carol Brinkman, Kornhauser Library, University of Louisville
Robin Harris, Law Library, University of Louisville
Holly Hedden, Warren County Public Library
Johan Koren, College of Education, Murray State University
Katherine Pennavaria, Western Kentucky University.

I sincerely thank the board members for their outstanding work. After the Fall issue is complete, Carol Brinkman will leave the editorial board after many years of dedicated service. Carol was particularly helpful to me when I became editor in 2008. She has been a wonderful board member and I have appreciated her thoughtful approach to the selection of articles and her sharp editing skills. Best wishes to Carol, as she retires from the University of Louisville's Kornhauser Library!

Incoming KLA President Brenda Metzger has asked me to serve as editor during 2014 and I agreed to do so. It is an honor and a privilege to serve KLA, and I appreciate the opportunity to continue. I look forward to another great year, working with the outstanding leadership of KLA. Many thanks to outgoing President Lisa Rice for her encouragement and support.

Paula Freibert and Jeff Freibert of Compass Creative continued to do a fine job for Kentucky Libraries, completing all tasks on time or early.

Respectfully submitted,

Robin R. Harris, Editor
